ACTIVITY REPORT

The National Service Scheme (NSS) Unit of Government J. Buana College organised a special camping programme at Pukpui, which took place from 9th to 12th April 2024. This four-day programme brought together 21 students and 4 NSS Programme Officers (POs), who worked collaboratively to achieve the event's objectives. One of the key highlights of the programme was the construction of a public urinal, a much-needed community facility that aims to promote hygiene and sanitation in the area. Through this project, the NSS team demonstrated their commitment to community service and development, fostering teamwork, leadership, and social responsibility among the participating students. Overall, the special camping programme was a resounding success, and it has paved the way for future community-driven initiatives by the NSS Unit.
